“Overcoming obstacles is inherent to locating blocks, and that’s where we thrive. We enjoy finding beautiful stone and creating solutions to creative challenges.”

— MONT³

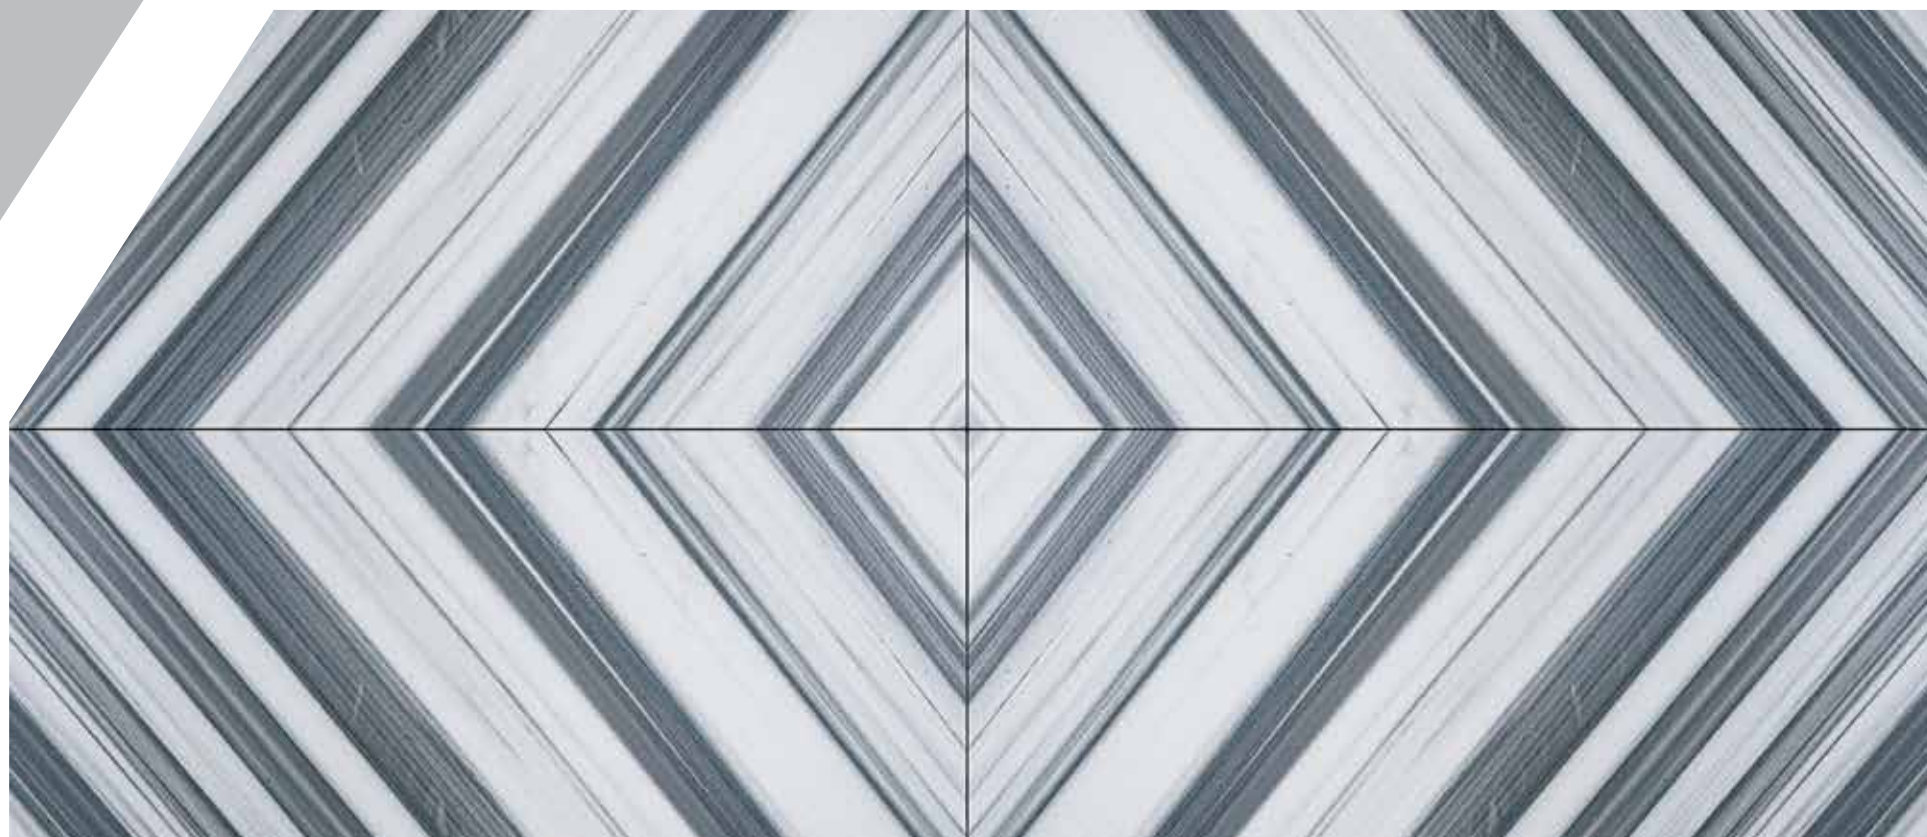

We believe first quality stone comes from first quality quarries. With our focus and expertise in locating prime quarries and handpicking only the best blocks, we micro manage arguably the most essential part of supply chain.

We are specialists in locating unique world class raw blocks straight from quarries in every corner of the earth and we work with some of the worlds most talented specialists to produce a finished product that is of highest standards globally.

Start with the consumer, we cultivate client experiences that allow our clients to rest assured and to focus more time and energy on producing world class projects.

We are a supplier of high quality stone blocks to processing plants. Taking a position early on in the supply chain, we work from between quarry to processing.

We have honed our skills in hand picking quarry blocks. Our company has visited and reviewed hundreds of quarries across the globe. Our expertise lies in consistently locating, purchasing, and identifying the worlds best blocks helping both architects, designers and manufacturers to create iconic experiences for the end user.

On a daily basis, suppliers and individuals wanting to introduce their product to the world contact us. That's a lot! We consider it a compliment that we are a company people would like to work with.
